

I fear that insistence on the copying flag being enforced in HD-TV receivers will limit American manufacturers ability to sell into other markets, notably the European one.